

LEV Conference 2012

On 4 and 5 October 2012, the LEV Conference will take place within the INTERMOT in Cologne. It is the first conference worldwide focussing on LEV charging infrastructure for tourism and everyday life. Simultaneous translation will be included.

The annual LEV Conference is the biggest international meeting of the LEV industry. Here is where decision makers from all over the world meet. Since 1995, manufacturers, dealers, R&D professionals, municipal decision makers, tourism professionals and specialized press use the event to get the latest information on the Light-Electric-Vehicle (LEV) industry.

This year, the LEV Conference takes place on 4 and 5 October 2012, in the occasion of the INTERMOT (International Motorcycle, Scooter and Bicycle fair) in Cologne, Germany.

On 4 October 2012, the best 8 projects of the „E-Bike Award 2012“ will be introduced to the audience. Finally, the „E-Bike Award 2012“ will be awarded to the best projects.

On 5 October 2012, conference participants will get information on regulatory framework concerning pedelec rental schemes and the usage of pedelecs for employees. Further key aspect are activities and practical examples around LEV charging infrastructure. The aim is to increase the use of Pedelecs.

Please find further information here:

LEVConference.org

Text: Angela Budde
Redaktion ExtraEnergy e.V.